

Assistant/Associate Professor, Pathology

Position Description

PCOM is committed to preparing graduates for the ever-changing landscape of healthcare. We are looking for proactive, engaged, and innovative individuals to help define and shape the future of medical education.

Hired individuals will have the responsibility to contribute to the college's commitment to the advancement of knowledge and intellectual growth through teaching and research, and to the well-being of the community through leadership and service.

Faculty members will develop meaningful relationships with students for academic, career, and personal advising. All faculty members contribute to the department and college through active participation on committees and other activities of the institution.

This position is located in Suwanee, GA on the PCOM Georgia Campus.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities

Duties and responsibilities include (but are not limited to) the following:

- The ideal candidate will have evidence of excellence in teaching all areas of Pathology.
- Experience in systems-based, case-based, team-based or problem-based learning as well as scholarship in medical education enhance one's application.
- Opportunities are available for educational or biomedical research and collaboration.
- Ability to collaborate with other professionals in the delivery of curriculum is essential.

Position Requirements

Applicants must be authorized to work in the U.S. and pass a criminal background check.*

Education:

- A Ph.D., M.D. or D.O. degree is required.

Experience:

- Three (3) years of teaching experience required, preferably in medical education
- Higher consideration is given to applicants with experience with systems-based, case-based, and team-based or problem-based learning as well as scholarship in medical education.

Certifications, Licenses, Registrations:

- None

Application Instructions

Please send the items below to pcomhiring@pcom.edu.

- Letter of intent
- Statement of teaching philosophy
- Statement of scholarly interests
- Curriculum vitae

PCOM is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration. We adhere to a policy that prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status, or any other legally protected class.